

Hiren is a consultant neurovascular neurosurgeon that has been in clinical practice for 10 years having trained in Preston, Manchester and Cambridge.

His research and clinical work is focused on improving outcomes after brain haemorrhage. He has set up and administers the National UK and Ireland SAH database, and is the deputy Chief Investigator for the SC IL-1RA in SAH study.

When not at work Hiren delights in the company of his wife and two energetic boys, enjoying the outdoors, skiing, and trying to play tennis and sometimes golf.
